Netaji's ashes to be brought from Japan

By a Staff Reporter

The ashes of "Netaji" Subhash Chandra Bose kept at the Rankogi Temple in Tokyo will be brought to India. A Press release issued by the All-India Netaji Memorial Committee in New Delhi on Tuesday said that it took the decision at a recent meeting.

The memorial committee was in close touch with the Government to see how this could be done.

The committee said that a team was being sent to South-East Asian countries, including Thailand and Singapore, in this connexion to talk to the former personnel of "Netaji's" Indian National Army. Their suggestions will be sought in connexion with the setting up of "Netaji memorials" at all places historically significant to "Netaji" and the INA, the release added.

PARLIAMENT QUESTION

Subject: Lok Sabha Starred Question Dy. No.16565 for 10/5/90 regarding move to bring the ashes of Netaji from Renkoji Temple in Tokyo - facts.

According to information received from Japan, Netaji died in a hospital at Taipei (Taiwan) on 18/8/1945. His ashes were reportedly taken to the Renkoji Buddhist Temple in the Nakano area of Tokyo where they are maintained to this day.

2. Two Committees, which were appointed by Government of India to enquire into the matter of Netaji's death have concluded that Netaji met his death in an air crash on 18/8/45 and that the ashes in the Renkoji Temple were those of Netaji.

3. In recent years some individuals and groups including the All India Netaji Memorial Committee have urged that the ashes be brought back from Japan. However, other individuals and groups have objected to such a proposal to bring back the ashes and have even contested its authenticity.

4. The Government of India are of the view that a consensus must be developed on this subject in order to enable the ashes to be brought back to India.

5. There is no objection to the information contained in the above paras being conveyed to the Hon'ble Member who has tabled the question.

6. The above issues with the approval of Foreign Secretary.
